

UKRAINISCHE
FREIE UNIVERSITÄT

Universität Regensburg

Supported by:

Federal Foreign Office

Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst
German Academic Exchange Service

Western Strategy for Ukraine: Ways out of the War Panel Diskussion

Moderation: Ralf Fücks, Zentrum Liberale Moderne

Participants:

- Michael McFaul, US Diplomat, Ambassador in Moscow 2012-2014, Professor of the Stanford University
- Wolfgang Nozar, EU-Ukraine Chief Negotiator for Cluster 1, Directorate-General for European Neighbourhood and Enlargement Negotiations, European Commission
- Pavlo Klimkin, Foreign Minister of Ukraine 2014-2019
- Michael Gahler, MEP European Parliament's Standing Rapporteur on Ukraine, Member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs

Friday, February 14, 2025

17:00 – 18:30 at the Künstlerhaus (Lenbachplatz 8, 80333 Munich)

Organized by the Ukrainian Free University in Munich and Zentrum Liberale Moderne in partnership with Peutinger Collegium and Denkraum Ukraine.

The Event takes place in the framework of the Ukrainian Evening “Ukraine in Focus: Security, Policy and Culture” at the margins of the Munich Security Conference.

The discussion delves into the complexities of the ongoing full-scale war in Ukraine, now nearing its fourth year. The situation is fraught with political intricacies, particularly within the USA and European nations, where differing strategic perspectives complicate decision-making. On the battlefield, Ukraine faces significant challenges, while Western countries grapple with a lack of consensus on the severity of the threat. The discussion will explore urgent questions: How can the West shape a strategy that both strengthens Ukraine's defense and ensures European stability, while working toward peace without conceding defeat? This multifaceted dilemma calls for careful navigation of military, political, and diplomatic paths to secure Ukraine's freedom and sovereignty as well as lasting peace and regional security.

Registration: <https://shop.freiheit.org/#!/Veranstaltung/o4nnk>

External event of the Munich Security Conference